1905-6 FOOTBALL TEAM.

Texas Must Be a Winner.

Daily Practice Begins with Abundant Material.
Athletic Notes.

45915

The prospects for a winning team this year are exceptionally good. Daily light practice has been going on for more than a week under the efficient direction of Captain Parrish. An unusually large crowd of men are out for the team already, and the number is daily increasing. More than forty were in the squad yesterday. Of course the old men, Mc-Mahan, Farris, Duncan, Wilkerson, Feldayke, Mainland, Weinert, the two Ramsdells and Hamilton are back, and others are expected shortly. There is lots of promising material in the multitude of new men; a goodly number are expected to make good. Then there is the "ever-victorious Freshman champion team" of last year which expects to furnish players for Varsity. The new coach has arrived, and the squad will experience hard work until it is ship-shape. Things look good.

Since the above was written, Coach Schenker has arrived in the city. When seen by the Texan reporter he had not been out with the squad, and, of course, could not say anything as to the prospects of the team. He is enthusiastic over the situation, however, and feels sure that Texas will have a winner as of old, a fighting aggregation that will teach even "heap big Injuns" the scalping trick.

Mr. Schenker thinks that the changes in the rules have been too great, that the reform needs reforming. The game will be more dangerous than before. The "free ball" will greatly increase the number of lively scrimmages, thus adding to the likelihood of head-on collisions and sprained limbs. The resulting injuries will be of a less serious nature than those arising from the heavy mass plays, they will be external rather than internal, they will be such as court-plaster can remedy.

The coach says that the reformed game will be very interesting to watch; brains and agility will count more than mere avoirdupois.

THE NEW COACH AND HIS PROBABLE ASSISTANT.

Our new coach, Mr. Henry R. Schenker, who comes to us from Yale, and who will be charged with the unenviable task of transforming the raw material of our Texas farms, ranches and villages into first-class football battering rams and baseball fighting machines, will probably be doing active service on the athletic field when this article appears. He has been spending every available moment at Yale taking note of the new tactics of the Yale team, and learning the application of the much-talked-of new rules to practical football. While the Texas men know practically nothing of his traveling plans, he is expected here at almost any hour.

Mr. Schenker has never made a record as a football player; has never appeared within the limelight of the really famous players; in fact, has never made the Varsity team of his own alma mater; but he has played football; has coached football teams, and knows the game in its every detail. Those who know him say that he failed to make the Varsity team only because the Divinity that shapes our destinies cut time—not hardihood or headwork—off Mr. Schenker's heritage. For two years, while assistant in the office of Dean Wright of Yale, Mr. Schenker coached the freshman football team, and made a winner of it each year. As a baseball player and as a track man, he made a better showing, and holds a creditable record in each of those lines of outdoor sports. As an athlete proper, he is unsurpassed—he held the all-around athlete championship at Yale for two years.

It was on this account—his all-around athletic record—and the fact that he is highly recommended by Physical Director Anderson of the Yale gym, and Captain Hogan (1905), Yale's famous guard, that the Athletic Council chose Mr. Schenker to coach the Texas team. He is also recommended by Walter Camp, editor of the Official Football Guide.

Mr. Schenker is an active member of the Young Men's Christian Association, and it is expected that his moral influence among the men under him will be of material benefit to the Christian Association.

While there is no positive announcement of the fact, and while the gentleman in question has no official connection whatever with University athletics, it is believed by many, and hoped by all, that Prof. Waldmar E. Metzenthin, who succeeds Prof. Ackerman as Instructor in German, will actively assist Mr. Schenker in coaching the outdoor sports teams.

Prof. Metzenthin, who, by the way, was once an Austin boy (while his father was pastor of the German Lutheran church here along in ninety-three or four), graduated at Franklin & Marshall College a few years ago, and, in 1904, took his M. A. at Columbia. While at Columbia he took a prominent part in football, playing a star game at quarter, and probably would have been on the All-American, for which he was prominently mentioned by a number of critics, had his University not been ruled out of the All-American makers' consideration. At Columbia he, like Mr. Schenker at Yale, coached the freshman team last year and turned out one of the fastest first-year teams that Columbia has ever produced.

With the co-operation of Prof. Metzenthin, which is anticipated, it is hoped by those who are in a position to interpret the weather flags on the University building, and detect the shadows of coming events, that Mr. Schenker will be able to get together a team that will eclipse the record of the famous 1900 team and scalp the Indians. In this connection, a timely word to the boys: In case we should overthrow the Redskins in November, the town, of course, is yours; but—"spare the women and children."

"Liberty, Equality, Fraternity"—that's Texas.

The editorial board has not been completed. An effort will be made to secure competent and faithful editors regardless of "party lines."

The Texan is the property and the organ of the student body, it is yours to make or mar. The management respectfully solicits the hearty and sympathetic co-operation of every student and of every member of the faculty in making The Texan what is ought to be.

The Texan does not intend to offer any advice to the Freshmen—the lordly Sophomore and the corridor guides may do that—but it may properly be said that he who expects to make English I, will shun the "Reformed Spelling" as he would shun a viper.

To the Faculty, Alumni, students and friends The Texan extends a hearty greeting. To all we give the glad hand of brotherly love in salutation; to the Faculty, Alumni and "old students," because of the pleasure of past association and the fellow-feeling of present friendship; to the "new students" because of fond anticipations. Faculty and students join The Texan in bidding the new people welcome to the greatest educational institution upon the face of the earth.

Prospects for the session of '06-'07 are very flattering. This promises to be the most successful year that the University of Texas has experienced in all of its remarkable history. 1441 students matriculated in all departments in 1904-05; 1991 matriculated in 1905-06, an increase over 1904-05 of approximately 30 per cent. Calculating on this basis, there will be at least 2500 people in the student body of the University during the current year. President Houston expects that number.

The progress of the University may be seen at another angle. The teaching force has been very materially strengthened; new blood has been brought into the various schools. Eight new instructors were added to the faculty by the Regents at their last meeting as follows: English, L. W. Payne, R. A. Law; Botany, Harlow H. York; History, Charles W. Ramsdell; German, W. E. Metzenthien; Philosophy, William K. Wright; Physics, Philip H. Wynne; French and Spanish, William E. Gould.

Taking these facts and figures into consideration, it looks as if the Legislature's intention "to establish a University of the first-class" is to be shortly realized.

CACTUS PRIZES.

All Students Should Try to Secure a Copy of the "Edition de Luxe" of the Cactus.

The Cactus management for this year offers several prizes for the best material submitted for publication. The prize in each case will be a special copy of the Cactus—an "Edition de Luxe"—having the name of the winner lettered in gold on the cover. An inscription on the fly leaf will mention the contest and state for what the prize was given.

One copy each is offered:

1. For the best cover design.
2. For the best poem.
3. For the best art selection.
4. For the best prose selection.
5. For the best original feature—suggested and worked out complete.

Competition is limited to students attending the University of Texas. The term "prose selection" includes class history, prose grinds, etc., anything in prose. By best original feature is meant any new suggestion as to arrangement, introduction of new material, new ideas, etc. The board reserves the right to use any of the material submitted.

INSTALLATION OF ALPHA DELTA PHI.

Just before the close of school last year Alpha Delta Phi made its appearance and took its place in the Greek world of Texas.

This sorority was organized at Wesleyan, Gr., under the name of Adelphean, in 1851. In 1905 it became a "national" under its present name. The local chapter is Delta, and its charter members are: Misses Jewel Davis, Irene Pettway, Alice Lockett, Elinor Fulton, Margaret Slaughter, Louise Fant, and Claudia Brahm. Miss Annie Rumble has been pledged.

The Texan congratulates Alpha Delta Phi upon its advent as well as upon the personal of its membership, and wishes it much success.

THE GLEE CLUB NOTES.

The Glee Club has bought a piano, and has placed it in the Y. M. C. A. rooms, where practices will be held throughout the session.

There will be a meeting of the old members of the club in the Y. M. C. A. room Monday, October 1, at 5 o'clock. After this meeting announcements as to the time that applications for membership will be received will be posted. It is expected that a Woman's Glee Club will be organized shortly.

On August 26, Mr. Charles W. Ramsdell of Austin and Miss Susie G. Griffith of Alvin were married and are now living at 709 W. Twenty-second street. Mr. Ramsdell graduated from the University with the degree of B. A. in '03 and M. A. '04. In '05-'06 he was fellow in history in Columbia University, and this year he is instructor in history in the University of Texas, taking the place of E. C. Barker, who is away on leave of absence.

DON'T FORGET THE BEST.

There is a legend that a boy who had a good home and plenty was dissatisfied with his life and began to roam in search of contentment. He had not gone far until he came to a shepherd herding his flock. The shepherd gave him a flower and told him to keep it ever with him, and contentment would be his reward. Under no conditions was he to part with the flower. The boy took it and went his way hopefully. Soon he came to an opening in the hill-side, and, being tired, he entered to rest. Inside the cave (for it was a cave) he found a man sitting at a table. All about were heaps of silver, gold, diamonds and precious stones. Of these the man told him to take until he was satisfied. Immediately he began to fill his pockets with the gold, silver and the finest diamonds he could select.

When he had taken almost all he could carry, he looked up as if to thank the man for the generous gift. But before he could speak, the man said with a cheerful smile and a tone of kindness, "Take all you wish, and welcome, but don't forget the BEST." The boy turned again to the treasures, and looked long and carefully at them, wondering which could be the best.

Finally he put down the silver and took up more gold and diamonds. As he did so the man turned, and in the same pleasant manner said, "Take all you desire, and welcome, but don't forget the BEST."

The boy was puzzled; again he viewed the treasures, but decided he had selected the BEST. He started to leave, carrying his precious burden of wealth. As he passed out, the man called to him and said, "If you are sure you have the BEST, go in peace."

The boy went his way, thinking only of his treasures and of the great happiness he expected them to bring him. After traveling for some distance he became weary and sat down to rest, and to count his money. But, alas! he had nothing but leaves. He began to weep, and as he wept he heard a voice say, "Don't forget the BEST."

Then he remembered his flower. He had left it on the table in the cave. In vain did he search for that cave, that he might recover his flower. But the opening in the hill had closed. No trace of it could he find.

Many students come to the University bearing the flower of contentment. Here they find treasures on every hand—the best of instruction; a course of study adapted to their needs; the best library in the south; the literary societies; the various kinds of athletics, baseball, football, basketball, tennis, track and gymnasium; society for the cultured and the uncultured, for the rich and the poor; the musical organizations, oratorical contests, etc. In their eagerness to load themselves with all these good things, they do not comprehend the kind entreaty: "Take all you wish, but don't forget the BEST." The boy or girl that comes to the University and seeks to take away these treasures, and these alone, surely forgets the BEST. No person is educated who has neglected to develop and properly direct the spiritual powers that lie within him. For what is education but the proper adjustment of the human being to his environment? And is not a part, at least, of his environment spiritual? What is education but the adjustment of the human mind to the will of God, a preparation by which man is brought into closer relation with his Creator?

Shall we develop the mental, the intellectual, the social powers of our beings and neglect the spiritual, the only part that endures? Shall we forget the BEST in our mad endeavor to get that which in the end is "nothing but leaves?" The Young Men's and the Young Women's Christian Associations are continually calling to you: "Take all you wish, but don't forget the BEST." Their members are of the best young men and young women in the University—yes, in the State. They are such as you can depend upon to help you over the rough and difficult ways of freshman life; they are such as you will not be ashamed of in society; they are such as you can depend upon to be your friends, both in college and in after-life. Then consider well in the beginning of your college career what your choice shall be, and don't forget the BEST, lest you find in the years to come that your treasures are "nothing but leaves."

MR. W. W. CRUTCHFIELD.

Mr. W. W. Crutchfield, the local secretary for the University Y. M. C. A., was born in Franklin, Tenn., 1875, where he lived with his parents until he was 12 years old. At this age his father died and left the support of the family to him and his two brothers. They moved to Nashville about this time, where Mr. Crutchfield and his two brothers worked to support the family. At the age of 22 he entered the Branham & Hughes Preparatory School at Spring Hill, Tenn. After a four years course in this school he entered Vanderbilt University, where he received the degree of B. A., June, 1906. While in the preparatory school, Mr. Crutchfield was the director of the gymnasium; while at Vanderbilt he played on the "scrub" football team, was a trackman, a member of the Philosophic Literary Society, belonged to the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, and was for two years a member of the Students' Council. During the spring term of his freshman year he was elected president of the Vanderbilt Y. M. C. A., which position he held for two years. The last year of his college course he was treasurer of the Y. M. C. A. During his entire college course of four years, he taught a class in Bible study, at the same time earning the greater part of his expenses. He has attended several special training conferences for Christian workers. He is a student volunteer and expects to go to China at some future time as secretary for the Young Men's Christian Association.

He comes to the University well equipped for the work to which he has been called. Mr. Crutchfield is already on the new field and has held several conferences with the cabinet and com-

NOTICE.

There will be a "stag reception" given by the Young Men's Christian Association in the Y. M. C. A. room on the second floor of the main building, just over the main entrance, Saturday evening, Sept. 29. This reception is for the new students to get acquainted with the old ones and with each other. Refreshments will be served free. All the young men of the University are cordially invited to come. Don't forget the time. It is Saturday night, September 29.

Also, on Sunday, September 30, at 3 o'clock p. m., there will be held the first devotional meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in room 70, second floor. All men of the University are invited.

Y. W. C. A.

During the days of matriculation the young ladies of the Y. W. C. A. will serve tea to first year girls in Mrs. Kerby's room each afternoon. They will also give a reception to the new students (girls) at the same place Saturday afternoon, September 29. Then, on Monday, October 1, at 5 o'clock p. m. they will hold their first regular devotional meeting in the young ladies' reading room, first floor. All the young ladies of the University are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

The Y. W. C. A. has been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Eunice Aden for their college secretary this year. Miss Aden is well known by all the old students, and is a general favorite among them. She has formerly been the assistant director of the girls' gymnasium in the University of Texas, and at the same time was president of the Y. W. C. A. In these positions she did very efficient work. While president of the Y. W. C. A. she was closely associated with, and coached by, Miss Alice Batchelder, whom she succeeds as local secretary. Miss Batchelder has been elected state college secretary for Texas. Miss Aden is a thoroughly conservative Christian, and an efficient worker in all the student activities for girls; and it may be truly said of her that she is a natural leader of women. The Y. W. C. A. is fortunate in securing her services. They have great reason to hope for great things in the future. Miss Aden's home is in Austin.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE.

Line-up for Scrimmage Yesterday Evening—First Game Played Here September 8th.

The football team is getting down to real work now, and things are beginning to look much better. Yesterday evening was the first time a line-up was made for scrimmage. The following is the line-up for the first team in the scrimmage yesterday: Center, Severin; guards, Wolf and Walling; tackles, Roy Waggoner and Douglas; ends, Pickard and Ethan Waggoner; halves, Acton and Swank; full, Truesdale; quarter, Hughes.

Hughes at quarter and Pickard at end are acquisitions just made in the last few days. Bill Clark and Captain Mo-nette are expected in this week, and Bill Cross will probably be able to get in the game within the next two weeks.
Clark and Monette together are good for four hundred pounds. This, with the material already here, will make a heavier team than last year.

The first game of the season will be played here, Friday September 28, with the Central State Normal of Edmond.
This is the first opportunity of seeing a game under the new rules. Edmond has been practicing ever since the first of September, so will be very likely to put up an interesting game.—The Umpire, Oklahoma.

The principal alterations in the rules are as follows: An increase in the number of officials of the game, by one umpire, with a provision to dispense with one umpire at the discretion of the two institutions involved.

The game has been shortened from two thirty-five-minute halves to two thirty-minute halves.

The two lines of scrimmage are separated by the length of the ball, and the ball must be placed before it is put in play, flat upon the ground with its long axis at right angles to the line of scrimmage.

A "down" has been defined and a good rule applied.

Tripping and hurdling have been defined and forbidden.

A new rule has been made regarding the taking out of time.

No one is permitted to interfere or touch the snapper back until the ball is actually put in play.

There must always be at least six men of the side in possession of the ball on the line of scrimmage, and if only six are on the line one of those not on the line must have both feet outside, the outside foot of the player on the end of the line. No one of the five center men may drop back of the line of scrimmage on offense unless he goes back five yards and another player takes his place in the line, and there shall be no shifting of men to evade
this rule.

Holding is defined and forbidden.

One forward pass shall be allowed to each scrimmage, with certain limitations.

The distance to be gained in three downs has been changed from five to ten yards.

When the ball has been kicked by a player other than the snapper back, any player on the kicking side shall be on side as soon as the ball touches the ground.

A kicked ball striking the ground
may not be kicked further, or kicked at from its position on the ground, or while bounding.

The goal kicker may adjust the ball in the hands of the holder, so long as the ball does not touch the ground.

Rules have been made defining and prohibiting kneeling, striking with the fist or elbow, kicking, tripping, and foul play in general.
